Arlington Public Schools Cool Bus to engage students in learning this summer

ARLINGTON- The Arlington Public Schools “Cool Bus” will be traveling throughout the Arlington community this summer providing math and reading opportunities for students during the long break. The bus will be staffed by four teachers and a Spanish Interpreter-Tutor who will provide grade-appropriate books to check out along with giving an opportunity for the family to join in fun math games.

“During the summer, many children lose knowledge and skills, and participating in summer learning activities can help prevent this,” said Karl Olson, director of categorical programs. “This is a great opportunity to keep up with math and reading while having fun at the same time.”
